

17th Annual North Idaho Chili Cook-off Competition
Thursday, October 1, 2009
Sponsored by the University of Idaho Food Science Club
Rules

1. Your chili must equal approximately 1.0 gallon in volume (e.g., 1 crockpot).
2. Your chili may not contain any form of game meat.
3. If your chili contains meat, the meat must be cooked thoroughly at 155°F.
4. Vegetarian and lentil chili permitted.
5. Your chili must be presented Thursday, October 1, 2009 between 9 a.m. and 10 a.m. at the tents outside the Agricultural Science Building. The chili must be presented in a stand alone, electric heatable cookery (e.g., crockpot), and must exhibit a minimum temperature of 140°F for entry into the competition. The chili must be prepared fresh, that morning or the evening before, and be maintained at a minimum temperature of 140°F until officially entered in the contest. (Chili should not be prepared, refrigerated, and reheated.)
Note that your entry will not be accepted if it fails to meet this requirement due to food safety concern.
6. After entry your chili becomes property of the University of Idaho Food Science Club.
7. Paid competitor registration forms will be accepted no later than September 30, 2009 at 5:00 p.m. Applications may be sent to: School of Food Science, University of Idaho, Attn: Ms. Gayle Gleason, P.O. Box 442312, Moscow, ID 83844-2312 or delivered to Room 111 in the Agricultural Science Building between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.. All checks should be made payable to "University of Idaho Food Science Club". Please contact Ms. Gayle Gleason at (208) 885-0707 for additional information.

Entry form for the 17th Annual North Idaho Chili Cook-off Competition.

Form is to be completed and returned with $10.00 Entry Fee no later than September 30, 2009 at 5:00 p.m. to:

University of Idaho Food Science Club
Rm. 111, Agricultural Science Building
P.O. Box 442312
Moscow, Idaho 83844-2312
(208) 885-0707

Name _____ Name of Chili _____

Address _____ Phone _____

Email _____